CRASH RESPONDER SAFETY WEEK

November 14 - 18, 2022

YOUR STORY NEEDS TO BE HEARD

Crash Responder Safety Week (CRSW) 2022 is a chance for every traffic incident responder to educate the public about the risk you take in your day-to-day work to keep all road users safe. Reach out to your local communities to explain what it takes for safe roadway incident clearance, whether for a crash, stalled vehicle, roadway debris, or something else. Emphasize that every road user plays a critical role in keeping you safe.

PLAY YOUR PART

Whether or not your organization takes part in CRSW, you can be a champion! Help the public understand your experiences working roadside by sharing video testimonies on social media using #RoadsideHeroes. Protect yourself by completing the National Traffic Incident Management (TIM) Responder Training, available for free online or in person (bit.ly/TIMtrain).

BECOME A CRSW CHAMPION

National, State, and local emergency medical services, fire and rescue, law enforcement, public works, transportation, and towing and recovery organizations and associations mark CRSW with:

- Social media outreach (#RoadsideHeroes)
- Governor or mayor proclamations
- Virtual or in-person TIM training events
- Local television or newspaper stories
- Messages on highway signs
- Events honoring fallen responders
- Move Over videos, posters, flyers, or other displays at department of motor vehicle offices and traveler rest stops

Collaborate with your agency leadership, public information officer, and fellow responders to amplify the visibility of this important week. Use the CRSW calendar (bit.ly/CRSW2022) to align your organization's messaging with peers across our Nation.
